

I support RM-10806. 5 wpm code should be retained for general and Technician plus. Ham radio is a special previlage that requires study and hard work. To make the previlage to easy opens up a potential for a rash of problem operators more than there are now.